HIS LIFE IS SPARED Escapes From a Box in Bronx Park,

Dr. Russel Wilson of Ohio Will Not Be Put to Death In Nicaragua.

OFFICIAL NEWS FROM DONALDSON.

United States Consul at Nicaragua Informs the State Department That President Has Commuted Death Sentence.

Washington, July 29.-The life of Dr. Russell Wilson, of Ohio, who was captured with a revolutionist party in Nicaragua, has been saved through the representations of Minister Corea of that country. A cablegram was received at the state department from Chester Donaldson, United States consul at Managua, Nicaragua, dated the 26th instant, as follows:

"As a courtesy to the United States and sympathy for the mother, the president will commute Russell Wilson's death sentence."

Wilson was one of several Americans who joined a filibustering expedition which landed at Monkey Point, near Bluefields, early in July. Most of the party were captured or killed. Wilson would have been summarily executed but for the intervention of Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister here. He secured a stay of proceedings and a guarantee of legal trial. The minister has now induced President Zelaya to commute the the death sentence imposed upon Wilson by courtmartial. Before the receipt of this message it was not known here that the courtmarial had been held. It is presumed that the commutation is to imprisonment for a time and then expulsion from Nicaragua.

Offered "Green Goods."

Columbus, O., July 29 .- L. S. Hugentugler of the Neil House cigar stand has received a letter from a "green goods" man. He offered Mr. Hugentugler $7,000 in "green goods" for $700 in "real money," and agreed toguarantee that his stuff would be accepted by any bank. The person who sent the letter is apparently a resident of Ulster, Pa. si xplates, which at the time of the assassination of President McKinley were stolen from the treasury department. They print $1, $2 and $5 notes, and, of course, the money is genuine. By buying this money one is enabled to become rich easily and in a few years be in a position to retire from active work. Mr. King, the owner of the plates, will sell the money in the following sums: Three thousand dollars for $500; $7,000 for $750; $13,000 for $1,000, and $30,000 for $2,000.

Christian Culture Association.

Laporte, Ind., July 29.—The Christian Culture assembly, a national organization of Baptists, will hold its annual convention this year at Pine Lake, near Laporte. The opening session will consist of readings by Miss Anna M. Philley of Fort Wayne and Florence McMillan of Chicago. On Tuesday Rev. J. E. Conant of Dubuque, Iowa, will speak on the Young People's union sacred literature course, followed by Rev. E. H. Ewett of Elkhart, Ind., on "Growth In Religious Life." In the evening Rev. J. E. Conant will deliver a sterocopion lecture on "The American Alps." On Wednesday evening Professor Ira M. Price of the university of Chicago will speak on "Shusan and the Palace

A YOUNG · PANTHER

Terrifying Sightseers.

New York, July 29.—After gnawing its way out of a wooden box in Bronx park, a young panther just arrived from Mexico, walked up to a picnic party of women and children, and astonished by their panic, jumped over their heads into a tree and has since led keepers and other hunters a weary chase through Bronx park jungle. The panther a fine specimen, 18 inches high at the shoulders, five feet long and he weighs 45 pounds. He was shipped from Mexico in a pine box.

The keeper having removed one of the slats and unfastened the animal's collar, left the crate unguarded for a time. The panther lost no time in attacking, with teeth and claws, the soft slats which stood between him and liberty. The park was filled with sightseers when the animal escaped.

Six keepers with shotguns and noose started out to capture the fugitive with directions to shoot only when necessary. About a mile north of the museum a party of 30 children out picnicking saw the panther emerge from a thicket. It ran toward them and they fled. On one occasion he wandered up to a table cloth upon which a luncheon had been spread and quickly devoured the meal. Only fleeting glimpses of the animal were obtained although the hunt was kept up until night.

The park authorities say the panththe scene.

WHILE the Republicans are telling so glibly what they are going to do to the trusts if they only get a chance, a glance at the Congressional Record on the 15th of last February will throw considerable light on the subject as to what may be expected of them. Their bad faith dur- istration to settle it for the little republic rather than let it come to a vote is too well-known to need discussion. But even within the present year the Republicans, who are now applauding the President's anti-trust utterances in his Pittsburg speech, voted directly opposite to their present and past professions. It happened in this way. The permanent census bill was under consideration. Senator DuBois, of Idaho, offered an amendment to the bill providing a remthe recommendations of the President in his message to the Congress. In offering the amendment Mr. DuBois said: "I am not making an indiscriminate attack on the trusts. My amendment simply carries out fully the suggestion of President Roosevelt, which is that the utmost publicity shall be given to the trusts." When dustries should be strong enough by this time to stand alone. The task of the administration is therefore difficult. It is now being put to the crucial test of the publicans are going before the country with, and "pointing with pride" to? Does any man ever expect relief for his genutry from the trusts at the hands of a party which to-day votes against their own President and to-morrow applauds those same recommendations, thinking thereby to get some mean political advantage? For twelve long years the Republicans have been telling the country what they were going to do to the trusts. But the unsympathetic cold-hearted type of the Congressional Record is full of words which have not been backed up by deeds. Trust not the men whose tongues incline one way and their deeds another.

Possessing not only a charming presence, but a beautifully modulated voice and a graceful literary style, Mrs. Prindiville gained control of her audience at once. Her lecture on "The Beautiful Homes of England," a clever review, handsomely illustrated, was the fruit of personal observation during an extended tour, and the judgment with which she selected the salient points of interest indicated the talent of an appreciative observer. The pictures, nearly one hundred in number, were artistic, and served to illustrate the subject in a very interesting and enjoyable fashion. So pleasing a lecture, delivered in such an engaging manner, was not only successful on this occasion, but will certainly be in demand on numerous other occasions in Chi-

It is time to ask, in all seriousness, whether the death of Wm. McKinley

Is our leadership lost? Less than a the Senate, representing a dozen States, nearly all Republican, in opposition to the administration. And over what? A perplexing tariff question! This is not a new question for the Republican party to handle. It was far more difficult for Wm. McKinley to adjust it for all the country than it is for the present adminhe did every other question in his time that perplexed and tried his party, by conciliating, by harmonizing, by making cencessions, and, whenever necessary, by

We must either find edy for the trusts in direct accord with new and wider markets abroad or prepare to pay the heavy penalty of overproduction-silent workshops, labor unemployed and capital a burden. Such a situation breeds depression and panic.

> The ardent protection sentiment of some has been tried by the trust developments of the past few years, and many believe that some of our protected industries should be strong enough by this evitable. If-not because of a lack of its own patriotism and principle, but because of overconfidence in its strength and a mistaken belief in the weakness of the enemy—the Republican party should fall by the wayside, where will the historian of our new century politics put the blame?

....THE BEE HIVE

Is it Warm Enough For You?

You have heard that question asked before and now you can give an affirmative answer. Yet there is some satisfaction in knowing that there are various ways of keeping cool. The soda fountains supply coolness for the "inner" man. We try to look out for the "outside" comforts of woman. The cool lawn dress, the breeze-making Fans, the summer Wrapper and the "Royal" Waists are all strong defiers of the sum-
